

The annual running of the Mark Palumbo Memorial University Orthopedics 5K is being held on Saturday, September 12, 2026 at the Kettle Point campus in East Providence. Dr. Mark Palumbo, a renowned spine surgeon, passed away in September 2019. He was not only a beloved member of the University Orthopedics family, but also a highly regarded pillar of the community.

The race starts and finishes at Kettle Point, and serves as a charitable fundraiser for The Tomorrow Fund, a local organization that provides support to children with cancer treated at Hasbro Children's Hospital and their families.

GOLD SPONSOR - $2,750

- 5 free race entries
- Corporate branding on event website at www.UOI.com/5k
- On-site branding and verbal promotions on race day
- Logo/branding on all mile markers
- Branding at finish line
- Logo on all race bibs
- Corporate branding in all email marketing campaigns (60,000+ unique individuals)
- Corporate branding on social media marketing
- Branding on all race shirts*
- On-site branding, table location and verbal promotions on race day

SILVER SPONSOR - $1,375

- Corporate branding on event website
- Corporate branding in all emails
- Branding on all race shirts*
- On-site branding and table location

BRONZE SPONSOR - $825

- Corporate branding on event website
- Corporate branding in all emails
- Company branding on all race shirts*

COMMUNITY SPONSOR - $275-$550

- Corporate name listed on event website and on all race shirts*

Due to printing deadline, sponsor logos & names for race shirts must be submitted by August 20.*

RAFFLE SPONSOR

We invite sponsors wishing to make a smaller contribution or who'd like to donate a raffle/slient auction item to email the address below.

The TOMORROW FUND
 for children with cancer

For more information on the race and about becoming a sponsor, visit UOI.com/5K or email 5KSponsor@universityorthopedics.com